Conference Programme available!

After hard weeks of reviewing, the final conference programme is now available. We have managed to create a 2,5 days programme full of high quality talks and workshops. The conference will start with a special session day "Evolution of ImageJ", in that we will present and discuss the ImageJ development process during the last two years. A full day workshops will provide hands-on tutorials for beginners and advanced users. At the end of the day, everybody can relax at the social event with a GPS-guided torch hike and a gala dinner at the Organgerie in Mondorf. The final day is dedicated to the scientific presentations in thematic session.

All day long the exposition and the scientific posters are accessible. Information about the exposition will be published later.

Call for paper closed

During the next weeks the scientific committee will evaluate the numerous submissions. Until they finished the submitters will not have access to their submissions, to not see the intermediate results of the committee.

Call for papers extended

Due to several requests in extending the call for paper, we decided to come up with an extension till 27th June.

To submit a paper, please register to the conference page. After you logged in the first time a private area for your submission will be created and you will be redirected to your private submission page. You can access this page also by using the "Submit" link in the top right of the page near by the "Login/Logout" button.

Best regards,

The Organisation Committee
